Subject: Call for Submission of Technical Contributions from Faculty Members

Dear Faculty Members & Scientists of KVKs,

As part of our ongoing commitment to advancing agricultural knowledge, promoting effective technology transfer and facilitating ensuing accreditation process, Uttar Banga Krishi Viswavidyalaya has been actively engaged in generating technical information through various avenues such as AICRPs, Departmental Research, Ad-hoc Projects, KVK on-farm trials, and similar initiatives since its inception.

We understand the significance of systematically documenting, categorizing, and disseminating the wealth of technical information that emanates from our academic and research endeavours. To streamline this process and ensure that our contributions reach the wider agricultural community, we are initiating a call for submissions from our esteemed faculty members.

Submission Guidelines:

Contributions may include research findings, on-farm trial results, technological innovations, and any other relevant technical information related to agriculture.

Please submit your contributions as E-mail attachment to (innovations@ubkv.ac.in) in the prescribed format (softcopy available at <https://www.ubkv.ac.in/news/innovation/>)

Proper documentation and categorization of the submitted material are imperative for efficient processing.

All submissions will undergo a review process at an appropriate level, leading to publication, acknowledgment of contributors, and subsequent dissemination.

Submission Deadline: 22 December, 2023

Your active participation in this initiative will not only contribute to the academic excellence of our institution but will also play a pivotal role in enhancing the practical applicability of our research findings in diverse agricultural settings.

We appreciate your dedication to advancing agricultural knowledge and look forward to receiving your valuable contributions.

Thank you for your cooperation.

Sincerely Yours,

Sd/-
